

DEFINITIONS: (Continued)

CIRCUIT:

The term applied to a channel used for the transmission of electrical energy in furnishing telephone service.

CONNECTING COMPANY:

A corporation, association, partnership or individual owning or operating one or more exchanges and with whom traffic is interchanged.

EXCHANGE:

The term means a basic unit established for the administration of telephone service in a specified area which usually embraces a city, town or village and its environs. It usually consists of one or more central offices together with the associated plant used in furnishing communication service within that area.

EXCHANGE AREA:

That territory served by an exchange.

EXCHANGE STATION: (See Telephone Station)

EXTRA LISTING:

An extra listing is any listing of a name or information in connection with a subscriber's telephone number beyond that to which he is entitled in connection with his regular service.

DEFINITIONS (Cont.)

INDIVIDUAL LINE:

A central office line designated for the connection of only one main station. (Not a PBX trunk line.)

INSTALLATION CHARGE:

A non-recurring charge made for the placing or furnishing of telephone equipment, in addition to Service Connection Charges and other applicable charges for service or equipment.

LOCAL MESSAGES:

A communication between a calling station and any other station within the local service area of the calling station.

LOCAL SERVICE AREA:

The area throughout which communication service is rendered to a calling station without the application of toll charges.

MAIN STATION: (See Telephone Station)

PARTY LINE:

A central office line designated for the connection of more than one main station.

PREMISES:

The building, or continuous or contiguous portions of a building, used and occupied at one time by a subscriber in the conduct of his business or as a residence. Where floor space in an adjoining building is made continuous in extent at one or more floor levels, all floor space in both buildings is considered as the same premises insofar as the subscriber who uses and occupies such continuous floor space is concerned, the two buildings otherwise being considered as separate buildings.

PRIVATE BRANCH EXCHANGE SYSTEM:

Such system is an arrangement of equipment, contracted for by a subscriber, consisting of switching apparatus with attendants' telephone, trunks to a central office and stations connected with the switching apparatus, thereby providing for telephonic inter-communication between these stations, and also communication with the general exchange system.
